

The Alliance to Feed the Future

Nourish a Growing Planet

Thanks to decades of investment and innovation in America's food and agriculture system, we now have the ability to provide safe, nutritious, and affordable food in an environment of growing demand and limited resources. It's a system we take pride in, and it will become even more essential as we face the challenge of feeding a growing global population.

With more consumers growing up off the farm there is more need than ever to inform public discussion about modern food production. Scientific societies, universities, industry and commodity groups have launched separate efforts to inform the discussion. The Alliance to Feed the Future provides a forum for diverse stakeholders to come together and broaden the conversation.

If your organization is working to improve understanding of our global food and agriculture sectors, we invite you to join us.
